Applications are invited for a NIHR Academic Clinical Fellowship in Dental and Maxillofacial Radiology within NHS England Workforce, Training and Education North-East, to start September 2027. The post holder will be based at Newcastle University and Newcastle upon Tyne Hospitals NHS Foundation Trust.

Academic Clinical Fellowships (ACFs) – 4 year fixed-term national training posts. Trainees undertake 75% clinical and 25% academic training over the term of the post. ACF trainees undertake a Research Training Programme provided by the University, for which funding is provided by NIHR. They also are eligible for a £1,000 bursary per year to support research training activity (e.g., to attend academic conferences). ACF trainees normally complete and submit an external funding application for a research fellowship to enable them to complete a higher degree (PhD or research MD) following the completion of their 3-year ACF fixed-term post.

Please note: In addition to attending an academic interview, all applicants are required to undertake the clinical National Recruitment process for specialty training in Dental and Maxillofacial Radiology and must achieve the minimum threshold for clinical benchmarking. Applicants who have not previously benchmarked must complete a separate standard application form for the 2027 clinical National Recruitment process.

Applications will be restricted to those candidates who meet the eligibility and entry criteria as outlined in the person specification.

NHS England Workforce, Training and Education North-East operates a 'lead employer' arrangement and all Specialty Trainees are employed by the 'Lead Employer Trust' hosted by Northumbria Healthcare NHS Foundation Trust for the duration of their training.
